Aldous Huxley was a real visionary who was years ahead of his time. This book is far better than the first movie which left out so many details from the book. The second, more recent movie 'Brave New World' is absolutely nothing like this book and not even in the same league. Its a very similar world to the one portrayed in George Orwell's 1984.

Citing the ill-effects of Brave New World is not the same as impugning its author's motives. Aldous Huxley was a deeply humane person as well as a brilliant polymath. He himself suffered terribly after the death of his adored mother. But death and suffering will be cured only by the application of bioscience.
