Climate Change Adaptation for Health and Social Services addresses concerns from the health and community services sector, including local government, about how to respond to climate change and its impacts on communities. What should an intervention framework for the community-based health and social services sector contain and how can it complement an organisation's core values, role and work programs? What current direct and indirect impacts of climate change are most relevant to organisations and the communities they serve? Which population groups are most vulnerable to climate change and what are the impacts on them? Above all, what can be done to reduce the current risks from climate change to clients, communities and organisations? Written by expert researchers and practitioners, this book presents existing research, innovative practice and useful tools to support organisations taking practical steps towards adaptation to the impacts of climate change on people. It examines the evidence of climate change impacts on six of the most vulnerable population groups - people with disability; older people; women and children; Aboriginal people; rural people; and people from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds - as well as discussing effective interventions. Other key issues covered include health and social impacts of climate change, adaptation, mitigation, climate change communication, organisational adaptation and a case study of innovation illustrating some of the book's themes. Accessible, informative and incorporating extensive evidence and experience, Climate Change Adaptation for Health and Social Services is relevant for anyone within the health and community services sector concerned about climate change and its impacts on their community.

Addresses changes to 1) improve vocational program quality nationwide; 2) require schools to ensure targeted groups' access to vocational programs; 3) concentrate funding so that programs are of sufficient size and scope to be effective; and 4) require program assessments. 18 tables and charts.

Top-Down Technicals, Macro Trading, not only builds upon the growing contributions by Arun S. Chopra, CFA, CMT to the world of market research and analysis, it outlines his process, displays his past successes, and highlights the advanced nature of his firm's work. It's a taught and highly informative discussion of the yen that also serves as the starting point for his forthcoming market observation book series. Inside Top-Down Technicals, Macro Trading, The Yen 2012, financial professionals and enthusiasts will find a detailed explanation of how they can take real-time market information to confirm macro-based trading and investment ideas. Chopra combines past editions of his monthly publication, "The Tape," with a closer look at an entire macro setup in order to create a high-level view of a macroeconomic, top-down technical cycle. The end result aids readers in expanding upon simple, long-term trading levels, and introduces new concepts of how assets trade relative to one another based on macroeconomic principles. His discussion of these long-term charts and macroeconomic relationships, as well as intermarket analysis, shows readers how to optimize the strategies and timeliness of their setups. The result: not only will you better understand Chopra's methodologies, you will also gain practical insight into the potential power of a setup on its related markets.
